

Human failures and tragedies point us to our need for God's grace in Christ.